Travel Europe based on the UK School Year

Teaching in the UK is a great way to see all the places on your bucket list throughout Europe and beyond. You will have 13 weeks of non-teaching time as a teacher to explore, as well as many long-weekends to take mini-breaks locally and abroad.

Check out some Teach in teachers talking about their travel plans and our breakdown of the best places to visit and the best times to go!

Teach in Networking Events

We are all teachers who have lived and worked in the UK, so we understand that international teachers arriving in the UK need a few key things to transition successfully into their school and their environment. One of them is regular catch ups!

When you join the Teach in community you will be invited to our pre-departure webinars, Induction event on arrival and regular catch ups called Networking Events.

Types of UK Schools you can teach in

When you register with us, we will really want to know all about your teaching experience so far and the types of schools you have worked in or completed university placements in.

We are lucky to have partnerships with a wide variety of schools in locations all over England and Wales.

We work with Academies, State, Faith, Independent and Grammar schools as well as Early Years, Primary, Secondary and SEN settings.
